She Evolved a Gown.

She was a young married woman with more artistic taste than money.
What her winter wardrobe needed was a sort of composite tea gown, dinner dress and at-home costume. The illustration shows what she evolved, and this story tells how she did it.

Some years ago she owned a black silk street gown, which now hang in her closet much the worse for wear.
This she ripped up, brushed thoroughly, sponged with black coffee and pressed between flannel cloths with a moderately hot iron. The silk appeared after this operation almost as good as new. Then a little dressmaker, who came in by the day, made the silk into a graceful princess gown.

The butter color lace insertion, which so uniquely trimmed it, was bought at a bargain and cost but 10 cents a yard. The stock and bow at the waist line, with its long ends, were made of orange colored ribbon, which had once upon a time served as a broad sash.

It took the whole of the black silk coat to make the huge puffs of the sleeves, but they were a great artistic success when finished, with their stripes of lace insertion and their deep lace cuffs, with overhanging frills.

THIS IS THE WAY IT LOOKED.
Five dollars covered the entire expense of the gown, counting in the dressmaker's bill, and yet it was much admired.—New York World.

The Word "Catholic."

The word "Catholic" is first used in the apostle's creed, where it says:
"One holy, catholic, apostolic church." It is next used by Ignatius, who is said to have been an apostle of John.
He used the word in this sentence:
"Wherever Jesus is, there is the Catholic church." St. Augustine (A. D.
400) says: "The very name of 'Catholic' holds me to the church." The word is derived from "kata," meaning "in or 'through,' and 'olus," the whole.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Sam Roudau Turns up Alive—Lawson comes Clear—Two Destructive Fires—Suicide in Trigg—Great Ocean Disaster.

It Snowed Tadpoles.

During the recent snow storm the country around Sebree and further north was visited by what seemed to be a shower of black snow. It fell to a depth of half an inch and was followed by an inch more of frost and snow. Professor Chas. A. Robertson, of the English High School, Indianapolis, Ind., has investigated the phenomena and found that the apparent black dust was really animalculae and containing pigment. This black pigment stained the water in which it was boiled, and stained the hands of the experimenter, so that ordinary soap would not cleanse them.
When separated from the water and dried, the matter burned quite freely.
The professor declares the animalcu-lae to be very minute tadpoles, having life and perceptible joints in the back.

A False Report.

Several reports have been sent out to the effect that there was an epidemic of typhoid fever in Trenton.
Such is not the case, nor has there been such a condition among the people of that prosperous little town recently. The fact is there have been less than half a dozen cases of fever, all told, and all the patients have either recovered or are clear of the disease and on the way to recovery.
Such rumors are calculated to greatly damage business in the place, and some of the merchants are loud in their complaint about the injustice already done them.

Troubles Multiplied.

J. B. Laffoon, brother of the Hon.
Polk Laffoon, died at Madisonville Tuesday of inflammation of the stomach, caused by falling from his horse.
Only a few days before, the ex-congressman's son was killed on the railroad and his wife is believed to be on her deathbed. His own health has been feeble for a year and now comes the death of his brother. Truly, it never rains but it pours.

Great Loss of Life.

The German steamer Elbe enroute to New York was sunk in a collision 30 miles off the coast of Holland.
It is believed that 350 lives were lost but the lists have not yet been check-ed up. A number of New York people and other Americans were among those lost. The great loss of life was due to a scarcity of boats and the difficulty of launching those at hand, on account of the frozen tackle.

Dwelling Burned.

Fire destroyed the dwelling house and contents belonging to Mr. Fielding Rice, a farmer living near White Plains, last Friday. The flames were first discovered issuing from the roof and the supposition is that a defective flue caused the fire. There was no insurance either on building or contents and the loss is quite a heavy one.

The Corpse Explored.

At a burial in Trigg county last week a great sensation was created by an explosion from the accumulation of gas in the corpse. The lid flew off and the spectators took to their heels. The corpse was being lowered into the grave. Two men, braver than the rest, afterwards returned and finished the interment.

Sam Roudau Found.

Sam Roudau, who was at first reported as the victim of the railroad killing at Crofton about ten days ago, has turned up safe and sound. He insists that it was some other man who was killed. No light has yet been thrown upon the identity of the stranger.

Robbed a Coal Company.

The Aberdeen Coal Company's store on Green river, was entered by burglars last Saturday night and a large lot of goods and some cash taken therefrom. Blood hounds were at once put on their trail, but failed to make out the course taken by the robbers. The Company's loss is several hundred dollars.

Date of Execution Fixed.

Convict McGhee, who was pardon-ed by Gov. Brown last week in order that the sentence of the court could be carried out in a murder charge against him, will hang for his latter crime Mar. 1st. McGhee killed a fellow prisoner named Thomas, in the penitentiary at Frankfort some weeks ago.

The Cadiz Court House.

The contract to build the Court House at Cadiz, has been let to Forbes & Bro., of this city. The price was $12,900. There were several bids for the work.

A BLOODY SUICIDE.

A Trigg County Man Kills Himself With a Dull Knife.

CADIZ, Ky., Jan. 30.—On last Tuesday morning Mr. Fillmore Grigsby, an unmarried man about 35 years of age, committed suicide about five miles south of Cadiz in Trigg county.
He was living with his widowed sister, Mrs. Shoaler, and went out to feed in the morning. In the evening he was dead in the field with his throat cut with a dull knife. He knelt down in the snow and cut his throat, making seven strokes, then got up bleeding and walked around in a circle of about 50 yards until he bled to death, falling in the snow face foremost, and holding his knife in his hand. The knife was stuck in the ground to the handle and the other hand grasped a bush. No cause is assigned, but it is a clear case of suicide, as no tracks in the snow led to or from the body.

On last Monday, Mrs. Captain Smith, of Rockdale, Trigg county, died of consumption. Mrs. Smith was a daughter of Drew Standrod, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the county. The Stand-rods are among the first settlers of Trigg county. Mrs. Smith leaves no family except a husband.

BIG BLAZE NEAR CASKY.

Large Tobacco Barn and Twenty Thousand Pounds of the Weed reduced to Ashes.

A large tobacco barn containing about twenty thousand pounds of good tobacco, the property of Mr. L.
D. Watson, a prominent farmer of the Casky neighborhood, was burned Wednesday night, together with a separator and lot of farming implements. Mr. Watson had just sold his tobacco at a good price and his loss on this item is over a thousand dollars. His total loss will reach $2,500.
He had no insurance on any of the property destroyed. It is not known just how the fire originated, but it is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. Hands had been stripping tobacco in the barn all day Wednesday, and had kept up a fire, but when they quit work at five o'clock in the afternoon, they claim to have extinguished every spark.

ABOUT THE WEED.

The market this week was active on good tobacco, but has not fairly opened up on lugs and common leaf.
Fine good are scarce and prices on this grade are very satisfactory. A large percentage of that offered has been in very soft order, but where it has been properly ordered last year's prices are fully sustained. Common grades are possibly a shade lower than at a corresponding time last year. Sales for the week were a little less than one hundred hogheads.
Receipts nearly as much. Loose market quiet, but on the improve.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.

4 10, 4 40, 4 80, 4 00, 4 50, 4 50, 4 15, 3 60, 3 51, 3 25.

10 hds. good to com. lugs, $8 25, 3 10, 3 00, 2 70, 2 75, 1 85, 1 75, 1 65, 1 40, 1 40.

Market very active with strong demand with wide range of prices.
Owing to great difference in quality and condition of offerings most of it being in very soft order. Good tobacco selling fully as well as last year, while common is lower. Nothing pays better than careful handling and ordering.
W., M. & Co.

Ragsdale, Cooper & Co. sold 37
hds. as follows:

14 hds. med. leaf, $6 25, 6 00, 6 00, 5 00, 5 50, 5 00, 5 00.

10 hds. com. leaf, $4 50 to 4 00.
10 hds. lugs, $4 00 to 3 50.
3 hds. trash, $2 50, 2 50, 2 00.
Market a little stronger.

R. C. & Co.

Sales by Abernathy & Co. Jan 30, of 3 hds. new leaf.
2 hds. good leaf, $9 00 to 8 70.
1 hbd. lugs, $2 25.

Our market has not yet opened on lugs and common leaf, but good leaf is scarce and is bringing full prices when it appears. We can sell tobacco that is 26 inches long or longer at big prices.

ABERNATHY & Co.

Ga ther & West sold 6 hds. new tobacco as follows:

1 hbd. good leaf, $7 75.
4 hds. com. to med. leaf, $6 75, 5 50, 5 50, 3 65.
1 hbd. lugs, $2 00.

Hanbery & Shryer sold 8 hds. old lugs, at prices ranging from $3 00 down to 2 00.

D. F. SMITHSON.

South Christian.

THE SQUAPE, Jan. 29.—Mr. Editor, we often notice letters from different places in the country, but we have never seen one from The Square.

Our citizens seems to be too busy to write; we certainly have a wide-awake, enterprising go-a-head class of people in our little community.

The bell taps every morning at 8 o'clock calling the hands from their slumber. Everything in shape for business by daylight.

It certainly looks like the horn of plenty was bound to bless our land when we look across the beautiful fields these cold snowy mornings, carpeted over with snow and see the plows turning under the fleecy white snow, others hauling shock corn, corn, others clearing, others digging ice houses, others building houses; this will drive back hard times we hear so much about.

We have a flourishing little school at Wayside academy, located in Mr.
J. F. Garnett's lawn. Our teacher is Miss Margaret Robertson, of Pikeville, Tennessee, we have classes covering all the common branches, including Greek, Latin and Music.

The weather here is very cold and we are having to-day a regular snow storm.

Mr. Will Norton, of New York, is expected in about two weeks. He has just recovered from a severe spell of typhoid fever and his many friends will be glad to see him back among us again.

Mrs. M. A. Mason has returned from a visit to relatives in Trenton.

Mr. P. H. Wills, of Nashville, is visiting the family of Mr. M. A.
Mason.

Lieut. W. V. Bronaugh and wife have been visiting Mr. W. S. Moore's family.

Mr. Jim Radford, one of our most enterprising farmers, returned from Bowling Green, Ia. t week. He brought back a nice lot of mules and a beautiful Shetland pony. Sadie don't you want to ride it?

Mr. Dick Leavell has returned from St. Louis with a cart load of nice mules for the spring market.

Mr. A. L. Carter passed through our little village last week with a nice lot of fine sleek beef cattle for the Hopkinsville market.

Madam Komor has it that there is going to be a wedding very soon not far from here. Put on your thinking cap and guess.

Rev. S. P. Forgy preached at Locust Grove church Sunday.

This is our first effort, if it should be so fortunate as to escape the waste basket, we will try again.

LUTE & LIZZIE.

One Hundred Converts.

The Revival conducted by Rev.
W. P. Pipe in Princeton, has assumed mammoth proportions. The meetings are being held in the Opera House, the churches being too small.
The converts number nearly a hundred and the interest is still increasing.

Lawson Acquitted.

Judge Thos. E. Lawson, who was tried at Owensboro this week on a charge of fraud in procuring a pension, was acquitted by the jury. The trial lasted two days.

Fashion Notes.

Trimnings of chenille and cut jet embroidery of bands of cloth are among the favorite garnitures. A particularly attractive trimming is of fine brocade in ivory white. The edges are pinked, and below the pinking is a double row of cloth slightly full, and also pinked. This is closely stitched about three fourths of an inch from the edge, giving a flat pinking, with two ruffles below it. The gallow is embroidered in chenille and beads in natural colors. This is an extraordinarily handsome trimming when properly used, and shows to the best advantage on a red broadcloth, worn at an afternoon reception. The hat worn with this costume is made of white broadcloth, with pinked edges and trimming of red plumes.

The small boy wears black velvet jacket and short trousers. A blouse of cambric, with turned over collar edged with a narrow ruffle, is worn with this. Black silk stockings, with low shoes, are approved. A stylish costume is made of French gray cloth. The stockings and shoes worn with it are red.

Very wide brimmed hats of velvet are trimmed with an abundance of ostrich tips curled close. A band of velvet around the crown and a couple of loops are all the other trimmings required.

Plush and velvet are among the favorite materials for the round capes that seem to be preferred to other wraps.

Record and Speed.

As record is not always a matter of speed, so the gray colt Prince Lavalard, although having a record of 2:29 1/4, and eligible to the 2:30 class, must be classed with the fastest that will go in training for the great turf battles of 1895. Last year, as a 3-year-old, he could beat 2:30, and those in a position to know say he can beat 2:15 this year. He is an elegant colt in every way.
